Sometime during Thursday night a person whose name will never be known un-locked the street door with the crank of a coffee mill and slid up stabs with murder in his thoughts. Perhaps he expected to find Elder Toots asleep up there, and was in his thoughts. Perhaps he expected to find Elder Toots asleep up there, and was prepared to dispatch him without mercy, or he may have simply intended to damage the hall about $18,000 worth and then go away to secretly chuckle over his dastardly work. Be that as it may he reached the anteroom and paused for a moment to cast a glance of contempt at the suffed opposium over the door leading into the lodge. There stood the innocent mail keg, and the transfin was open.

On the first day of June, 1881, I lay at my residence in this city surrounded by my friends and waiting for my death. Heaven only knows the agony I then enured, for words can never describe it. And yet, if a few years previous, any one had told me that I was to be brought so low, and by so terrible a disease, I should have scoffed at the idea. I had always been uncommonly strong and healthy, had weighed over 200 pounds and hardly knew, in my own experience, what pain or sickness were. Very many people who will read this statement realize at times that they are unusually tired and cannot account for it. They feel dull and indefinite pains in various parts of the body and do not understand it. Or they are exceedingly hungry one day and antiraly without average corp of corn both in quantity and cantiraly without average corp of corn both in quantity and cantiraly without average corp. turns not yet condensed. renow springs, Onto—There will be over an average crop of corn both in quantity and quality in the Little Miami Valley. Chicago—The reports as to the condition of the corn crop are favorable in that they show that the growing corn has advanced beyond injury by frost and is drying out much better than anticipated. In the gen-cral estimate the crop in States like them. eral estimate the crop in States like Kan-sas and Missouri is beyond expectations, and in Northern Illinois below. From Daand in Northern Illinois below. From Dakota and Minnesota reports are to the effect that the corn, while showing green in the field, is hardening more rapidly than was thought possible. The Board of Trade estimate puts the crop of the whole 'counry at 1,350,000 bushels.

Springfield, Ill.—Corn improved during September, although frosts late in the month injured late corn in some localities in the central and northern divisions of the State.

St. Louis, Mo.—Corn in this section matured before there was any danger from frost. Wet weather while gathering is now the only risk. There are more bushels to the acre, and more acres, than on record before.

Kansas City, Mo.—The drought which terminated a week ago did serious damage to late corn, particularly in western counties of Kansas. The crop, owing to increased acreage, will be as large, if not larger, than any former season, but estimates are less by several million bushels than a few weeks ago. No reliable figures are yet obtainable. The movement of corn from this section will be light, as the old crop is thoroughly cleaned out; much will be retained for stock purposes, and farmers generally are able and disposed to hold surplus for good prices.

hold surplus for good prices.

Burlington, low.—Prospects for corn are favorable; samples are large-eared, and fine weather has favored late corn.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The corn crop of Minneapolis is secure from frost and will yield on an average 25:39 bushels per acre. There are about $00,000 acres of corn in Minnesota.

Omaha, Neb.—The weather has been favorable, and the corn crop has matured
